

Print Media and CO2

CO2Now helps keep atmospheric CO2 levels visible online and off.

If you have a newsletter, newspaper or magazine, feel free to use the graphics and data from CO2Now to show the latest CO2 levels and trend information. Please make reference CO2Now.org so people know where to get more details. High resolution graphics can be requested by email.

A newsletter example is provided below.

The following image shows what a CO2Now widget can look like in print media. This sample was taken from the September / October 2009 edition of Will Green Jobs be Good?, published by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (Local 1245).
